Earn a guaranteed SEK 2,000 per month effortlessly.

While it may sound too good to be true, this time, it's a genuine opportunity. Here's the breakdown:

As the owner of an Emaldo® Power Core home energy system, you have the unique privilege of securing a dependable passive income of SEK 2,000, deposited directly into your bank account.

Simply activating the grid reward program from the app and enjoy getting income each month.

Now, the important question: how do you receive compensation?

Presently, grid balancing compensation is only available to customers who purchase their energy from a few Swedish electricity companies. However, as of May 2024 this will change and it no longer matters who you purchase your energy from. Yet, as an Emaldo® Power Core owner, you need not wait for this change. We presently guarantee a monthly payout of SEK 2,000, with the expectation of a potentially increased payout post-May 2024.

Payouts are conveniently and automatically handled. Emaldo® directly transfers the funds to your bank account every month. So, relax, allow your Emaldo® Power Core to fulfill its function, and welcome the financial benefit. It's as straightforward as that!

So, how is this possible?

Our increasing reliance on renewable energy sources, such as wind and solar, is commendable for environmental reasons. However, it introduces some challenges. During periods of ample wind and sunlight, we generate an excess of electricity, and conversely, insufficient electricity is produced when these natural resources are scarce.

This instability is a growing concern. As an Emaldo® Power Core owner, you can play a role in addressing this issue. By allowing your Emaldo® Power Core to autonomously charge and discharge to and from the grid, you contribute to stabilizing the electricity grid for the benefit of all, while receiving a steady income.

How does it work?

It's a straightforward process. Activate the grid balancing feature on your Emaldo® Power Core, and you're set. No further steps involved.

In contrast to some other grid balancing services that assume full control of your system, Emaldo® maintains simplicity. You can continue using your system without constraints, all while earning money by aiding in grid balancing. No additional devices are required - everything is integrated into your Emaldo® Power Core. Simultaneously, our batteries maximize your earnings, with the quickest response time.
